

Kostov Gets Death Sentence For Spying

10 Others Get Lighter Sentences

Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 14—(AP)—Traicho Kostov, who got next to the top in Bulgaria's post-war Communist revolution, was sentenced tonight to die on the gallows by a supreme court which found him guilty of a pro-Yugoslav, anti-Soviet conspiracy.

Five of his co-defendants high in the nation's communist government and economy, Ivan Stefanov, Nikola Pavlov, Nikola Nachev, Ivan Gevrenov and Ivan Tutev, were sentenced to life imprisonment.

The other five defendants received sentences ranging from 15 down to eight years.

All But Kostov Confess

All but Kostov had confessed abjectly to treason, treachery, spying and economic sabotage, professed repentance and thrown themselves upon the mercy of the court. He repudiated his pre-trial confession and insisted he was not guilty of the major counts.

Under a new law for the trial of members of the government, the sentences cannot be appealed.

The convictions and sentences were handed down by a court of three supreme court jurists and four jurors selected by the national assembly. Hearing of the case began just a week ago.

Kostov, 52-year-old bespectacled communist politician and publicist, was former deputy premier and secretary of the Bulgarian party's central committee.

Denials Cause Sensation

Twice he caused a sensation by calmly denying the indictment. That document said he had confessed to cooperating with American and British diplomatic representatives and agents and plotting with Premier Marshall Tito and other Yugoslav officials to wreck the nation economically and tear it away from the Soviet Union's orbit.

Accused of planning to murder the late premier, Georgi Dimitrov, set up a "Kostov government" and make Bulgaria a satellite of Yugoslavia, the former deputy premier entered a defiant denial on the first day of trial.

His second denial was in his last words yesterday, when the court abruptly adjourned without hearing all his plea.

Kostov was dismissed from his high position in the government and party last April and arrested on grounds of "nationalist deviations."

Retail Dealers In Coal Ask Truman For Quick Action

Chicago, Dec. 14—(AP)—Retail coal dealers today called on President Truman for the fourth time in two months to order federal action that would increase coal supplies in retail yards.

A telegraphed request was sent by the executive committee of the American Retail Coal Association.

It said the shortage of coal in retail stockpiles is extremely acute and that the present three-day work week of the United Mine Workers provides barely enough to fill freight cars and trucks delivering the fuel to household furnaces.

Government intervention is the only solution, the group said. One official said he presumes that would involve use of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Association leaders said three previous requests to Mr. Truman, in October and November, have been "futile."

They told newsmen that some local areas may be without coal within two or three weeks, and sooner if severely cold weather takes big bites out of consumer bins.

Chicago Bingo Operators Freed

Chicago, Dec. 14—(AP)—A Criminal Court jury today acquitted five men charged with gambling law violations in connection with operation of a northwest side bingo game.

The defendants were Charles Sizemore, 51, a city sewer inspector; Leonard Carter, 37, a city plumbing inspector who was suspended after police raided the bingo game; John Thomas, 42, Edward Belfry, 39, and William Gibson, 38.

Sizemore testified that the game was operated for the benefit of a 35th Ward Boys' club. He said that the club has not yet been organized.

Illinois News Briefs

Carterville, Ill., Dec. 14—(AP)—Southern Illinois Incorporated, observing its tenth anniversary today, reported 50 new industries have been started in this area in the past three postwar years.

Lisbon, Ill., Dec. 14—(AP)—Clarence Gill, 57, of Carbondale, an engineer for the Illinois waterway, was killed last night when his automobile left Route 52 on a curve, knocked down several guard posts and overturned. Gill and his companion, Edward Erickson of Utica, were thrown from the automobile. Erickson was not injured.

Freeport, Ill., Dec. 14—(AP)—Robert P. Eckert, 80, retired lawyer and republican politician, died last night at his Freeport home after a long illness.

He was chairman of the Stephenson county Republican Central committee for 20 years, and was master in chancery from 1895 to 1933. In 1944 he completed 50 years as a lawyer.

Alton, Ill., Dec. 14—(AP)—Fire Chief James Lewis and six other Alton firemen were hospitalized after being overcome by smoke while fighting a fire last night.

The fire resulted in heavy damage to an army goods store in Alton's east side. Members of four families living above the store got out of the burning building without trouble.

Urbana, Ill., Dec. 14—(AP)—The city of Urbana has returned to the republican fold after a lapse of less than a year.

Glen Chapman, republican attorney, was elected mayor yesterday over Ray Watchorn, democrat, an Illinois Central Railroad employee, by a count of 2,609 to 1,233.

Chicago, Dec. 14—(AP)—Mrs. Ellen Borden Stevenson, ex-wife of Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, returned to Chicago today, hatless and radiant in a new hair-do.

Smiling graciously, she pleasantly protested to reporters and photographers: "I'm just on old has-been. I'm not news any more."

Chicago, Dec. 14—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said today that the "know how" of accident prevention "has not been applied in 70 per cent of our industrial plants in Illinois."

The governor spoke at a meeting of the coordinating and technical committees of the governor's conference on industrial safety.

"At least 90 per cent of accidents are preventable," he said.

Granite City, Ill., Dec. 14—(AP)—Harold Rogers, 42, whose car was found parked on a Mississippi river bridge near here yesterday, was reported still missing today by police.

Rogers, owner of a Granite City electrical appliance firm, left his home late Monday night, saying he was going to put his car in the family garage.

Cairo, Ill., Dec. 14—(AP)—Mrs. Elda Beck, 59, died in a Cairo hospital yesterday of injuries suffered when a car struck her as she walked near her Karnak, Ill., home Wednesday night. The driver was not held. A coroner's jury ruled the death was accidental.

Chicago, Dec. 14—(AP)—Miss Vivien Kellems, Connecticut industrialist, said today that allied victory in World War II was delayed "at least a year" because the United States sent Russia large supplies of electrical equipment.

She said the Russians used the equipment to build four atomic plants, and that "in all history no nation has ever been betrayed as was the United States."

Big Reich Banker Reported In U.S. To Collect Money

Washington, Dec. 14—(AP)—Herman J. Abs, German banker and industrialist, is in the United States on business.

The State Department confirmed this today in response to a demand from Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) to know whether there was any truth in reports that Abs had been in the country for three weeks.

The department told Gillette a "complete investigation" will be made. Gillette wrote Secretary Acheson that he understood Abs had collaborated with the Nazis during the war and that he believed the public was entitled to know what Abs is doing in this country.

Gillette said the State Department advised him Abs was here to talk with creditors of Germany about money owned by German banks to U. S. banks since the so-called "standstill agreement" of 1931.

Abs was accompanied to this country by Dr. Wilhelm Vocke and Hans Treue, directors of the Deutsche Laende bank, the State bank of the Western German republic.

They are reported to be at the Hotel Gotham in New York.

The State Department said Abs had come to the United States in a "private capacity." A press officer told a reporter that Abs was issued a visa by an American consular official in Germany who did not consult the State Department in advance.

Census Bureau Hears From Mr. Ak, Puh, Iduma Best And Others

Washington, Dec. 14—(AP)—The Census Bureau reported today it has heard from parties named Ak, Puh and Hiteodomistockler Sopstain and is prepared for anything when it starts counting Americans' noses next April.

It also has heard from Mister Zyzz Junior Senior, Jr., wrote in to tell the bureau that: "My father, Junior Senior, Sr., has the same name as mine, but is not related."

As it gets ready for the 17th decennial census next year, the bureau is receiving about 3,600 letters each week, asking about records now in the bureau's files or volunteering information so the government will

Chiang Promises Cooperation For US Aid To Formosa

Taipei, Formosa, Dec. 14—(AP)—The United States approached Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek about the defense of Formosa last month before he went to Chungking, diplomatic sources disclosed today.

(The diplomatic sources were not named in this dispatch.) Chiang was said to have promised his fullest cooperation if American sends "outstanding people" here to help plan the defense.

(While officials in Formosa declined comment, reports persisted in Manila that several arms shipments from the United States have recently arrived in Formosa. These reports came from travelers who recently visited Formosa. They pointed out that they might be delayed shipments from earlier allocations rather than any new aid such as might be authorized from the fund President Truman has at his disposal to combat communism "in the China area.")

(The report of Chiang's fresh bid for American help follows recent suggestions that a new program of aid be launched to help him hold this strategic island, which the Reds have vowed to "liberate" in 1950. Formosa was part of the Japanese empire for 50 years and its final disposition depends on a peace treaty with Japan. It was returned to China in 1945 following an allied wartime decision.)

Urges Civilian Leadership In U.S. Security Program

Washington, Dec. 14—(AP)—Warning that the cold war may last a generation, the Committee for Economic Development (CED) today urged measures to safeguard the United States without making it a "garrison-police state."

Congress and the president, said the organization of business executives, should quickly inject fresh civilian leadership into the national security program.

The outlook, said CED, is that the security effort will cost $20,000,000,000 or more as an annual minimum for the next several years. The figure includes arms, foreign aid, the atom, and other costs.

"Security measures, uncured by the requirements of freedom, can undermine our free institutions," said the report.

It specified the potential dangers: a dominant military might gradually overcome the tradition of civilian control; loyalty investigations may turn into "witch hunts"; a trend toward censorship exists; "high and still higher" taxes may sap the country's industrial strength; bureaucratic growth could "undermine the free economy."

Israel Defies U. N.; Brings Government To Jerusalem

Jerusalem, Dec. 14—(AP)—Israel, Palestine post and a British foreign brought her government to Jerusalem today in defiance of a United Nations order for international relief over the Holy City. Premier David Ben-Gurion declared "we have entered upon the greatest political struggle in the history of our people."

"Israel is aligned against the whole world," he said.

The Premier moved his ministry to this city from Tel Aviv following approval by the parliament (Knesset) last night of a decision to speed the transfer of government offices to Jerusalem.

He made his pronouncement upon the gravity of the situation in accepting the freedom of the city from Mayor Daniel Auster.

The blue and white flag of the Jewish Republic was run atop the Eden Hotel, a stone building in the modern section less than a quarter of a mile from the old walled city, still patrolled by the Arab legionnaires of Hashemite Jordan.

Ben-Gurion took offices in the hotel.

board, plaster board and paper bags. One woman stripped off a big section of wallpaper from her home and mailed it to the bureau by parcel post. She explained that her father had written the date of her birth in one corner, and she needed the date verified so she could get an old age pension.

The census officials still are puzzling over this one: "There is also a mistake about me being born according to our statement of December 29. I was born and that is all I know about it, as my mother was away and I can't remember anything just right next time."

Jennie B. Sloppy wrote in, and so did Pericola Zoppe, Easie Pace, Legal Tender, Faircloth, Arizona Butcher and O'Such Fitch.

William Williams told the bureau he'd prefer to go on their records as "Johnny Jones, because I have used it for years anyway."

Changes in family status are frequent subjects of correspondence. A man named Orange Grove notified the government he has now two children—Lemon Grove and Dill Pickle—and asked that the records be brought up to date.

Miss Hoggie Hair likewise reported her marriage to Bim Skins.

Mamie Mouse complained that the census bureau had changed her daughter into a son and wanted to know if that is going to make any difference.

Iduma Best complains that she's really nine years older than the 1940 records show her to be.

Along with routine letters from Saffronia Rodent, Peter St. Peter and citizens named Brt, Uk and Milwaukee Wisconsin Kinzey, the bureau receives some really unusual

Delegates Of 16 States Sign New Indonesian Charter

Batavia, Java, Dec. 14—(AP)—A provisional constitution welding a new nation of 77,000,000 people out of the lush Indonesian Islands was signed tonight by delegates of the 16 states and territories.

The charter is to become effective in about two weeks, probably on Dec. 27, when the Netherlands government turns its 300-year rule over to the new independent federal republic, the United States of Indonesia. The new Republic is to remain a partner with The Netherlands under the Dutch crown.

The simple ceremony took place in an open pavilion at the former home of President Soekarno of the Indonesian Republic, where Indonesians proclaimed their independence on Aug. 17, 1945.

About 200 persons, including representatives of the states and newsmen, saw the 15-minute ceremony in the rear of the Dutch treaty bungalow, where a T-shaped green tables had been arranged for the delegates. No Dutch or foreign representatives were invited.

Mohammed Rumi, chairman of the central committee which is preparing the future government, declared that with the constitution "we can prove to the world and to ourselves that a sense of being one people and having our language and one country is a strong an invincible power."

Aly, Rita Still Await Baby's Birth

Nice, France, Dec. 14—(AP)—Prince Aly Khan and Rita Hayworth, who are awaiting the birth of a baby in Lausanne, Switzerland, have some time more to wait, the Aga Khan said today.

The wealthy leader of the Ismaili Moslems told a reporter the child will not be born before the month of January. He is the father of Prince Aly and the father-in-law of Miss Hayworth, the screen star princess. The two were married May 27 at Vallauris, on the French Riviera. They have been in Lausanne since Nov. 5.

The Aga Khan and his wife, the Begum, took off by plane today for Rome. He said he will go from Rome to India and not return to France until the end of February.

U.S. Steel Will Revise Prices Of Steel On Friday

Chicago, Dec. 14—(AP)—Steel prices will be revised Friday by United States Steel Corporation.

Benjamin Fairless, president of the nation's biggest steel producer, disclosed the forthcoming revisions at a news conference today. And he added:

"We're going to increase prices and we're going to decrease prices."

Fairless would not say whether most products would be raised in price or lowered, but he said the increases would have to be made because of higher costs. He pointed to a recent freight rate boost and to the steel workers pension plan to become effective March 1.

Another big steel company, Inland Steel, said it has had no plan to change prices. But J. L. Block, vice-president in charge of sales added, "we'll study U. S. Steel's prices when they are issued and make our own decisions."

Atomic Scientist Urges West Begin World Government

Washington, Dec. 14—(AP)—Western democracies were urged by atomic scientist Harold C. Urey tonight to take the first steps toward a world government as the only alternative to future wars.

He recommended that a limited political union be formed by Atlantic pact nations now linked in a defensive alliance to bulwark free nations against what he called the world-conquest ambitions of communist Russia.

Urey addressed a meeting sponsored by the local chapter of the Atlantic Union committee. He is a director of the committee.

The committee is supporting a resolution now before congress asking President Truman to call a convention of seven sponsoring nations of the Atlantic pact to explore the possibilities of a federal union.

The seven nations—the United States, England, France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Canada—would be authorized to invite other democracies to participate.

Urey, who helped develop the atomic bomb, said neither it nor other modern military weapons can be counted to give peace and security.

Jury Finds Man 'Guilty,' But It Is All A Mistake

Lancaster, Ohio, Dec. 14—(AP)—Through an error, a Fairfield county jury today found a man "guilty" of failure to stop after an accident.

The case was just about closed, however, before Charles Clark, 68, of Carroll, learned he had been found innocent of the charge.

The jury of 11 men and one woman had deliberated for about 40 minutes after Clark's trial on the charge. Through error, the jurors then signed a printed form of "verdict guilty" instead of one of "not guilty"—their real decision.

Clerk Isaac Rowles had read the verdict and was reading the full content of the official verdict before the consternation of the jurors made itself apparent to Judge Harry Kilburger.

The judge then heard the jury foreman, R. M. Yoder, declare "we must have signed the wrong slip."

The judge then inquired if the jurors wished to sign a "not guilty" form. All nodded assent.

Without having to retire, each juror then signed the proper form and the correct verdict was read.

The charge against Clark involved a collision which caused only $5 property damage, Court records showed.

91 Injured; Natural Gas Blamed

Sioux City, Ia., Dec. 14—(AP)—An explosion leveled the main office building of the Swift & Co. packing plant today and the death toll was estimated at between 30 and 35.

Sioux City, Ia., Dec. 14—(AP)—Fifteen men and a woman nurse lost their lives today in a bomb-like explosion at the Swift & Co. packing plant here.

Assistant Fire Chief Clarence Chapelle, directing rescue work, said hours later he feared at least four more bodies would be found in the tangled wreckage.

At least 91 were injured in the explosion which rocked a sizeable area of this major meat packing city. Thirty-two of them were dismissed from hospitals by 6 p. m., (CST) six hours later.

Caused By Natural Gas

City fire officials attributed the blast to natural gas, but it was not known what touched it off or precisely where.

The gas was carried into the building in a city main. Workers dug into the street to reach a valve which would stop the flow.

Chappelle, who said he had 75 firemen and about a hundred volunteers at work, predicted the digging for possible bodies would continue all night.

The extent of the blast, occurring in a six-story brick building containing offices, a cafeteria and slaughtering departments, was such that:

1. The explosion was heard two miles away and a building six blocks away was shaken.

2. One witness said "the floor went out from under with a big harrumph."

3. A policeman—a war veteran—who reached the scene almost immediately, asked: "Have you ever seen a bomb explosion?"

Debris in front of the building was four feet high, requiring a bulldozer for removal. Water in the basement was four feet deep and held two bodies. Jagged concrete and twisted steel girders poked grotesquely through the wreckage.

The first and second floors of the building were hardest hit. Company officials said about 1,000 persons were working in it.

Some automobiles parked in the vicinity were crushed by the tumbling walls.

Police and firemen worked into the night under flood lights. Because of the presence of gas, loud speakers warned onlookers against smoking or taking pictures with flash bulbs.

Derrick trucks pulled up huge pieces of concrete slabs and structural steel.

Among the debris removed were dressed chickens and fancy bacon. Onlookers tramped them unconcernedly.

One of those killed—Henry Louis Babcock—was not employed by the plant. He was making a delivery there for the Sioux Transportation Company.

Most of the victims were found below the first floor. Major Robert C. Ruby of the Iowa Air Guard said.

THE PLIGHT OF GREAT CITIES

Some of our scientists have been telling us for a long time that the country's biggest cities were getting too thickly settled. They've been saying that sooner or later the drawbacks of bigness would start to outweigh the advantages.

Today signs are multiplying that a few of our great centers may already be beyond the size best calculated to serve their citizens well.

A prime point made by students of city growth like Lewis Mumford is that congestion tends to breed congestion. Mumford argues that many of the things cities do to relieve overcrowdedness actually serve in the end to intensify it.

Highway and other transportation improvements are examples. Super-thoroughfares are designed to break traffic bottlenecks in and around urban focal points. Too often, even with no important increase in population or in number of automobiles, the new roadway becomes as clogged as were the old routes. It has attracted traffic that previously went elsewhere.

The same thing can happen on rapid transit systems. A city builds more subway lines to ease the pain of rush-hour travel to and from downtown. In no time at all, traffic has built up beyond capacity again.

New York City tears out an ugly slum and erects handsome elevator apartments, well-spaced for light and air and set in an area of green lawns and shrubs. There is great pride in this achievement, until it is realized that there are now far more people in the re-built zone than ever before. Thousands of work-bound folk pour out of the buildings every morning and try to cram themselves into overloaded buses.

The worst aspect of the problem, according to Mumford, is that once a city becomes congested every move it makes to relieve the condition is tremendously costly. Subways cost more than widened streets. Superhighways cost more than normal routes. Existing buildings and streets have to be torn down and expensive property acquired.

As population mounts, the cost of providing regular city services such as water, gas, sewage disposal and power goes up faster than the rise in numbers. Huge pipelines and storage facilities must be constructed at heavy expense to bring water into every home. Gas and oil are drawn from fields sometimes 2,000 miles away.

New York City's current water shortage is one of the signs dramatizing the problem. The city's development of new facilities fell behind population growth and it may not catch up for several years.

Another critical fact: the congestion drives people into outlying areas for quiet, fresh air, light and space. Their departure speeds the decay of the older city center, which inevitably yields less and less property tax revenue. The city tries to compensate by upping taxes, which only tends to drive more people away. The same thing occurs in industry. Most new factories today are in city suburbs or rural areas nearby.

So the great city finds itself confronting a weird dilemma. It needs more and more money to meet its colossal cost of dealing with congestion. But that very congestion has produced a fanning out of people and industry that makes it increasingly difficult to get even normal revenues, let alone greater amounts.

And somehow the flight to the suburbs never goes far enough to produce a real break-up of the great urban concentrations. Millions stay close in and other millions pour in at intervals to enjoy theaters, stores and other attractions.

As if all this woe were not sufficient, the Atomic Energy Commission now warns that great havoc would result in Washington, New York, Detroit, Pittsburgh and Chicago should an atom bomb be dropped on any of these thick concentrations.

But the final twist is this: the cost of dispersing these centers obviously would be even greater than the expense of keeping them going as they are now.

Trying To Down Chronic Cough No Joking Matter

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A long-lasting chronic cough is no joking matter. Furthermore, it may be dangerous to ignore it and just try to ease the cough with drug store remedies.

There are many possible causes for a chronic cough. At least 20 or 30 possible causes are described in medical books. One of the most serious, of course, is tuberculosis of the lungs and indeed cough may be the first symptom of this dangerous disease. Valuable time may be lost if a cough caused by tuberculosis is ignored.

Chronic sinus infection or infection in the nose may cause small amount of mucus or pus to drip down the back of the throat producing an irritation and hacking cough. An inflammation of the bronchial tubes called bronchitis is frequently at fault.

May Be Lung Trouble
Cough can last for a long time after apparent recovery from pneumonia or other acute infections of the lungs.

Even if the cause of the cough itself is not important and does not require treatment, a severe cough over a period of time may cause the small air tubes running to the lungs to become dilated and filled with mucus or pus, eventually producing the disease called bronchiectasis. Bronchiectasis is hard to treat and may itself cause the cough to go on and on.

It is not necessary to be alarmed unduly about a cough which does not seem to go away. If, however, a cough seems to be lasting too long and especially if other symptoms, such as loss of weight or slight fever are present, it is wise to try to find the exact cause. A succession of self-purchased cough syrups may lead to the neglect of some serious underlying disease.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

A Problem For Santa Claus

By Hal Boyle

New York—There isn't a darn thing Santa Claus can throw my way this Christmas.

The one thing I'd like even Santa Claus can't give. I want him to make time stand still and keep a girl I know from growing older—and from going away.

The girl is half past two, her name is Nina, and everything about her is wholly wonderful. Even her nose runs in a nice way.

I can brag about her with a clear conscience because she isn't mine, except to borrow on an hour's lease arrangement with her parents two or three times a week. That is my privilege as godfather.

When first I saw her she was just a moist, bald-headed ball of protoplasm that smelled of milk and made small noises like a puppy. She stubbornly refused to make baby talk and disdained the English language altogether until she was ready to use complete sentences.

One day the phone rang and as her parents leaped to answer it she looked up from her play pen and said gravely:

"I'll get it. I'll get it."

It was in this way we learned for sure that Nina was a genius. She is a kind child, and the big sorrow of her life is that Jack fell down and broke his crown while going up the hill with Jill to fetch a pail of water.

I am her standby storyteller. And all this year as Nina has grown older I have been growing younger.

The other weekend her father and mother, George and Helen Camp Palmer, a young newspaper couple, got an assignment to go to Italy. They will be gone for three years. Nina has been told she is going to take a trip on a big boat and she is so excited that she is beginning to lose interest in Jack and Jill.

Recently, while her parents were shopping, I took her on a farewell visit to the Central Park zoo. She said goodbye to the monkeys, wanted to climb in and pet the tigers, jeered at the "lazy seal" that wouldn't go into the water. But most of all she loved the pigeons because they came and pecked peanuts from her hand.

Then we bought a balloon and hailed a cab home. On the way she turned to me with a luminous smile and said:

"Hal I sleepy."

And she stretched out comfortably on the seat, put her feet in my lap, and dozed off. All the rest of the way I kept thinking, "Lord, Lord, can't you let it stay this way for a long time?"

There was so much I had to tell her—all about Cinderella and the three bears and the little boy who put his finger in the cake and saved Holland. But now somebody in Italy will tell her all these time stories, and probably get them all mixed up in the telling.

Three days after Christmas she'll be gone, leaving me a godfather in absentia. When I see her again she'll be almost six and greet me with a polite "buon giorno" instead of "hi, Hal!"

How can I believe in Santa Claus this year?

Mule Injured By Car On Highway

A mule was knocked down and injured and an automobile was damaged in an accident Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock on a gravel road east of the junction of State Routes 100 and 104 in the northwest section of the county.

Deputy Sheriff Mose Wicks, who went to the scene of the crash, said that a 1947 Ford coach driven by Bernard Bruening traveled over the crown of a hill and collided with a wagon and team of mules driven by George Russwinkel and owned by Owen Heitbrink.

Bruening and Russwinkel escaped injury.

Generally, it costs more to get an article from the factory into the hands of the consumer than it does to manufacture it. On the average, 50 per cent of the price paid to the retailer goes to cover the expenses of distribution.

1,000 Enjoy Songfest Featuring Xmas Music

A capacity crowd of 1,000 persons supervised by James Waltz; and the overflowed in the aisles and halls of Jacksonville High school auditorium Tuesday night to enjoy and participate in the third annual Songfest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Songfest is becoming an institution, and is looked forward to each year by many who wish to hear Christmas music.

John Bellatti, president of the Jay-Cees, introduced the master of ceremonies, Henry Busche, who then carried out as successful a program as has ever been held in Jacksonville. Mr. Busche introduced each group to the audience, and directed the adults and children of the audience in informal singing of Christmas carols familiar to all, which not only invaded the halls of the building, but seemed to ring from the hearts of everyone, proclaiming the Christmas season and welcoming the Spirit of Christmas in a renewed and deeper meaning.

Those groups, aside from the audience itself, who appeared on the program were: a mass all-grade school chorus, directed by Miss Mildred Eubank; the Jacksonville high school chorus, under the direction of Miss Lena Hepper; the Illinois School for the Blind chorus, led by Mrs. John Zell.

Also appearing were the grade school Tonettes, with O. A. Schutte directing; the Waltz Fantomines, a group of David Prince boys under the supervision of James Waltz; and the Spiritual Harmonizers, a sextet. It was between these performances, however, that the audience took part, and participated in the total effect produced a songfest that will live long in the memory of everyone who attended.

Even Santa Claus put in an early appearance for the children, and presented them with pop-corn balls, and stockings filled with candy.

Almost three hundred children welcomed the old gentleman. The community sing also produced about $150 which is to be used to buy Christmas baskets for needy families, whose names will be given to the Junior Chamber of Commerce by the Salvation Army.

Co-chairmen for the event were Al Hellerberg and Robert Herr, and the accompanist for Mr. Busche and the different groups was Don Guy.

Now Hospitals Are "Banks," Too!

Doc Simpson was saying, "Hospitals are building up 'bone banks' that work just like blood banks. When bone is needed, the surgeon takes one from a refrigerator, cuts it to the right shape and simply splices it in."

"You doctors are sure making progress," I says, "but tell me, are any of the patients fussy about whose bone they're getting?"

"No sir!" replies Doc. "No more than they worry about whose blood they get. No one yet asked for a bone from a man who went to the same school or church he did."

From where I sit, it would be a better world if we were half as willing to accept other people's ideas and tastes, as we seem to be willing to accept their bone and blood. There'll always be differences. Some like buttermilk, others would rather have a sparkling glass of temperate beer. But underneath we're pretty much the same—deserving each other's respect and tolerance!

Murder Case To Be Tried Soon

Jerseyville—The petit jury of the circuit court of Jersey county has been summoned to report on January 16th. At that time the criminal docket of the court will be called for trial and among the cases will be the one of the People vs Leonard Hawkins charged with the murder of Albert Earl Clark of Boise City, Okla.

State's Attorney Alvin H. Pettit of Jersey county stated Tuesday afternoon that he expects the Hawkins case will be called for trial on the opening day. Hawkins has employed counsel and former state's attorney, Frank A. Reiser, will be in the role of defense attorney.

A number of witnesses are expected to come here from Clayton, N. M. and Dalhart, Texas, for the trial. Hawkins and Clark, before the trip to this part of the country, were employed in a restaurant at Clayton, N. M. where they were working as cooks.

They left Clayton before the close of the National League pennant race for St. Louis, under the impression that the Cardinals would win the league race. They planned to attend the World's Series.

The body of Clark was found three miles south of Jerseyville on a side road about noon October 12.

AIR FORCE TESTS NEW LITTER-BEARER—Clam-shell doors swing open to show the engine of the new H-19 Sikorsky helicopter just flight-tested successfully by the Air Force at Bridgeport, Conn. Transfer of motor from behind pilot to the 'copter's nose gives more passenger and cargo room to the craft, which was designed for search, rescue and liaison work. The H-19 can carry eight litters and one attendant, or 10 passengers.

Investigation by local authorities and state police resulted in the identification of the body. Contact with police officials at Clayton and Dalhart established a series of facts that led to the filing of a murder charge here against Hawkins.

Salvation Army Needs Help For Xmas Baskets

Despite the fact that 224 applications have been found eligible for Christmas baskets this year, only 14 of those families have been adopted or reserved by other organizations and individuals.

If the Salvation Army must foot the bill for the entire 210 applicants it will take more than the normal kettles and other Christmas income to meet the demand. And the Army will welcome the adoption of some of its listed families by individuals or organizations.

Routt Xmas Program Next Sunday, Dec. 18

Optimists Hosts To Gov. Haverton, Group Of Boys

A visit from District Governor Van W. Haverton of Peoria, and a Christmas party with a group of 'teen age boys as guests, provided a double feature for the Optimist club dinner Tuesday evening at Hamilton's cafe.

Mr. Haverton is governor of the 23rd district, extending from Danville to Quincy, with 23 clubs. The Jacksonville club was the sixteenth he has visited this year. The district governor is proprietor of a typewriter service company in Peoria.

In line with their usual custom, the Optimists played host to a group of youngsters and presented them with useful gifts. Rev. C. Frank Janssen presided at the meeting.

The first part of the program was presented by Harold Schaefer, an Illinois College student, who directed the clubmen and boys in a series of novelty stunts.

Lloyd Gohn mystified the audience with tricks of magic during the second half of the program. Judge Paul Fenstermaker served as his assistant.

The district governor met with the board of governors of the local club at the home of Dr. John Wright on Sandusky street, after the session at the cafe.

THAT SPECIAL MILK

Everyone knows milk is important to health. But here is the most important milk of all — a milk so rich in food value it is today's greatest food bargain.

GOLDEN GUERNSEY Milk is produced only by fine Guernsey cattle. It is creamier, contains more body-building food solids below the cream line, and has a delightfully appetizing flavor. Also its rich yellow color shows the presence of carotene, an important source of Vitamin A.

Sarasota, Fla.—(AP)—Goats stupid? No such thing, says Don and Grace Ragsdale. They started out with one animal for milk to help Mrs. Ragsdale's arthritis and wound up with not only a goat dairy but a rather complete dossier on goat habits and philosophy. Mr. and Mrs. Ragsdale says goats have a strong sense of what is right and wrong in the way they should be handled, and if one thinks he has been slighted, he sulks or pouts or butts. They also have very long memories. Some practically demand to be addressed by name. And they don't eat rags or tin cans.

AVOID Possible Disappointment WHEN YOU USE ONLY ANTIHISTAMINE DRUGS

You Have a Far Better Chance to ABORT THAT COLD If You Also Use FOLEY'S

NOT ALL COLDS are stopped by antihistamine drugs. One type cold that can't be stopped by antihistamines is the cold in which a cough and sore throat develop. For such a cold, use Foley's Honey & Tar; the continued use of antihistamines exclusively can lead to needless discomfort, delayed recovery—maybe to serious complications.

Warning! If you NOW have a sore throat or cough or one has developed despite taking antihistamines . . .

START FOLEY'S QUICK! If antihistamines have failed you, they evidently are not what you need. So make up for 24 to 72 hours lost; switch at once to Foley's. Permeate your system with Foley's cold-aborting terpenes and pine tar oil which combat secondary infection.

TAKE FOLEY'S whenever you feel a cold coming on
DON'T RISK HALF-TREATING your cold or treating it wrong! Take antihistamines as well as time-tested Foley's. Each does a job the other can't do. Take both and you have a far better chance to abort cold

Mission Group Hears Account Of Chinese Christmas

Mrs. Chester G. Fuson, Presbyterian missionary recently returned from China, gave an interesting account of Christmas festivities in China to the members of the Woman's Missionary Society of Westminster church, at their meeting at the home of Miss Katherine Barr on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Fuson sang "Silent Night, Holy Night" in Chinese, saying that it is the best loved of all Christmas songs among the Chinese and that the music of it is so popular that she has often heard it sung with other words by those who are not Christians. The pupils in the mission schools love to give Christmas cards designed by students in these schools.

The speaker was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. B. C. Nelms, who explained that Mrs. Fuson, a sister of the Rev. Wm. C. Meeker, is with her husband spending the winter in the Meeker home. Devotions were led by Miss Mabel Goltra, assisted by Mrs. Lula Bell. At the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Herbert J. Capps, reports were presented by the secretary, Mrs. A. F. Ewert, the treasurer, Mrs. Louise Holmes, secretary for overseas sewing, Mrs. W. N. Harness. Miss Holmes was given an honorary membership in the National Board of Missions and a pin in appreciation of her twenty-five years of service as treasurer. Officers elected for next year are president, Mrs. Nelms; vice president and chairman of the program committee, Miss Anne Stevenson; secretary, Mrs. Ewert; treasurer, Miss Holmes. Other members of the program committee are Mrs. Elbridge Sibert and Mrs. Harold Kamm. A social hour followed with refreshments served by the hostess.

White Hall Puts Up Decorations; Party On Dec. 24

White Hall—Main Street has taken on a festive appearance as Christmas approaches, with approximately every merchant on the street displaying a lighted tree in front of his or her store. The colored strings of electric lights hung across the street make a very beautiful sight at night to residents and those persons passing through the town. The American Legion Post No. 70, in conjunction with the merchants is sponsoring the annual Christmas party to be given at the Princess Theater the afternoon of Dec. 24 at 2 o'clock at which time, gifts will be given to each child attending, and free movies will be shown. The children of White Hall and its vicinity are cordially invited to this Christmas party.

"FUR HEVWIN'S SAKE"—A fallen angel is haloed Cary Wilmer, Jr., seen strumming his harp in an Atlanta, Ga., hospital. Playing the role of a Heavenly messenger in a stage show, Wilmer suffered a broken arm and leg when the cable supporting him above the stage broke. Strictly down to earth now, Wilmer vows never to act the angel again—not in this world, anyway.

Officials said exports of farm products during that period showed a substantial gain over the same months of 1948. Major increases were registered in shipments of cheese, fresh and dried fruits, vegetables and hemp. Decreases were noted in exports of wine, potatoes, and olive oil.

HERO'S HAPPY HOUR—Plucky Mike Rector, who'll be five years old Dec. 23, is a happy hero, because he's going home for Christmas after more than a year of battling the agony of burns over 70 per cent of his body. On Nov. 12, 1948, two boys seized Mike and set fire to his cowboy suit. The doctors shook their heads. Seldom had anyone so badly burned lived. But they didn't give up. Neither did Mike. And now he hopes to leave Casualty Hospital, Washington, D. C., to go home for a few hours and see what Santa brought in response to the letter his sister, Rose, is helping him write.

Another load brought $40.50 and high-good and choice kinds made $35 to $39.50. Good grader ranged from $27.50 to $34.25. A part-load of choice heifers reached $34.50 but medium and good kinds were $20 to $28. Cows topped at $18, sausage bulls at $20, and choice vealers at $29.
Choice woolled lambs topped at $22.50 and similar shorn at $22.25. Yearlings 'in loads were absent. Ewes held their steady grip in a scanty supplied offering at $12.50 downward.
Included in the run's estimates were 13,000 hogs on sale, 8,000 cattle, 500 calves, and 3,500 sheep.

Viennese Laundrys Accuse Americans Of Stealing Trade

Vienna, Dec. 14—(P)—A Viennese laundry owners today held a protest meeting and accused two American businessmen of stealing their customers.

The Americans, Kenn Rogers and Louis Satz, both of New York City, opened a 27-machine self service laundry here five weeks ago. They have been doing a big business ever since.

Rogers said the laundry owners have applied pressure on the city government to revoke the laundry license and have effectively blocked all present plans for expansion.

Viennese housewives who have to wait nearly a month for their clothes to be returned from steam laundrys have been lining up for hours before the laundry.

Rogers said he has had more than 200 requests from Austrians who want to help him establish more.

Boyle Believes Nothing Illegal In Highway Deals

Chicago, Dec. 14—(P)—State's Attorney John S. Boyle said today he believes nothing illegal has come to light concerning Cook county super-highway condemnation cases.

Boyle said his office will review all future condemnation proceedings brought by the county and investigate all past settlements involving more than $150,000. But this move has been planned for several months, and a $200,000 budget appropriation to finance it already has been approved by the county board.

Attention to details of condemnation payments was highlighted recently when Mayor Martin H. Kennelly of Chicago ordered a checkup on pending deals for property by the city after disclosure that a building which sold for $360,000 in 1947 cost the city $594,000.

The Chicago Sun-Times disclosed that Jacob M. Arvey, Cook county Democratic chairman, and Judge Samuel Epstein of the Superior Court were members of a syndicate which collected $1,206,452 from Cook county for condemnation and damages involving a square block of property.

Says Commandant Will Decide If Cadets Play Irish

Washington, Dec. 14—(P)—The army said today that whether West Point starts playing football again with Notre Dame is a question for the commandant of the military academy to decide.

This was the answer of a news officer when questioned about published reports that the Irish and Army will resume football relations within three years.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the army chief of staff, said through the news officer that he had made no commitments to Notre Dame regarding football scheduling.

The commandant of the military academy, who the army said has jurisdiction over such matters, is Major General Bryant Moore.

The Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame, visited Gen. Collins last Saturday while in Washington to attend a newspapermen's dinner.

In an interview yesterday Father Cavanaugh denied that he and Collins had discussed a resumption of football between the army and Notre Dame.

Kicked Off Walk, City Puts Parking Meters In Street

Newton, Ill., Dec. 14—(P)—Mayor Len R. Drinker said the city of Newton will install parking meters in the street next to the curb around the county courthouse tomorrow.

The announcement came after the Jasper county board of supervisors forced the city to remove the meter standards already installed on the sidewalk. About half the proposed number had been put up.

Sheriff William F. Bryan served a trespass notice on the workers this morning. It gave the city until 3 p.m. (CST) to remove the standards. They were taken out by that time.

The county owns the ground around the courthouse out to the street.

Baseball Trade Dam Bursts With 7 Deals Worth Million Dollars

New York, Dec. 14—(P)—The baseball trade dam burst today under pressure of a million dollars worth of deals including a jolting six-man swap between the New York Giants and Boston Braves.

2. Second baseman Gerry Priddy of the St. Louis Browns to Detroit for pitcher Lou Kretlow and cash in excess of $100,000.
3. Third baseman Hank Majeski of the Philadelphia A's to the Chicago White Sox for pitcher Ed Kleiman.

The majors were deadlocked on the bonus question until Commissioner Chandler cast his decisive ballot with the American League for repeal. The matter now goes back to the minors for reconsideration. Best information is that the minors will be able to muster the required three-fourths vote in a mail poll.

Far and away the big news of the day was the six-man transaction by which both the Giants and Braves acquired key men. It could be one of the most important trades in recent years.

Dark, the Associated Press rookie of the year in 1948, is a top flight shortstop, who slumped to 276 last season. Only 26, the former Louisiana State University football star will anchor manager Leo Durocher's infield.

Boston hesitated for many days before deciding to give up Dark, the most important player in the swap. Negotiations between the two clubs had been going on since the World Series.

Manager Billy Southworth of the Braves placed Dark on his "no trade" list. The Giants had Gordon in the same category. When New York agreed to put Gordon in the deal Billy gave up Dark.

Stanky, of course, is the peppery former Brooklyn Dodger second baseman who returns to his old manager, Durocher, at last. When Stanky, now 32, was sold to Boston in March of 1948, he was quoted as saying "My pal Leo stabbed me in the back." That is supposed to be all patched up now.

A hunter, scratching his shoulder with a fur-lined glove, was mistaken for a raccoon and shot in the hand today.

State police said Cassimero Canelli of Corbin City reported that he shot his friend, John Becker, 54, of Sea Isle City, while the two were hunting near here today.

Canelli said his friend was behind a tree and just the fur-lined glove was visible when he fired.

King George Marks 54th Birthday

London, Dec. 14—(P)—George VI observed his 54th birthday today, fit and hearty.

Artillery at Hyde Park and the Tower of London boomed out 41-gun salutes.

A year ago the king was flat on his back with a dangerous circulation ailment. The empire feared amputation of one of his legs and long-time invalidism for him.

Sportswriters Say TV Lessens Crowd At College Games

New York, Dec. 14—(P)—Is television of college football games keeping spectators at home and away from the stadiums?

Yes, is the majority opinion of sportswriters and sports-casters around the nation who took part in an Associated Press' poll.

Thus these professional observers agreed with the Eastern College Athletic conference which recommended that none of its 86 members make any television commitments for 1950-51. The Pacific Coast conference leaders also have expressed concern.

The writers and sportscasters said television definitely was making friends for college football even though it was hurting the gate. The athletic directors can take some solace out of that.

TV especially cuts down attendance in parts of the country where the weather gets bad, one observer commented. The weather problem also slows down advance sales because if it rains or is cold, the customer knows he can see the game at home, this observer added.

The Braves, publicized as the number one college team in the nation, make their fourth bid for victory this evening at Peoria, turning their heavy artillery on the Texas Christian Horned Frogs.

Out of Peoria come one of those "now it can be told" stories concerning the opening of the Robertson Memorial Field House for this year's basketball inaugural. Four days before the first Bradley game, college officials were tearing their hair. It seemed that 62,000 feet of lumber needed to complete the bleachers had not yet arrived. The necessary pine was rushed out of a Chicago lumber reserve, still in the rough and turned into finished seats right in the Field House foyer. Bradley officials are now apologizing for the splinters that fans acquired during the first session—they roughed it.

"What a difference one defeat make" observed a bystander at the Jacksonville high-Winchester cage tussle Tuesday night. He was nodding in the direction of a sparsely settled balcony which had been packed to overflowing in previous games. Though the gym was filled Friday night it didn't begin to reach the staggering proportions as in the first three home mixers.

Two Jacksonville prep clubs hit the road Friday night. Routt invades Notre Dame of Quincy while the Crimsons move to Lanphier in Springfield.

A word about one of the most over-looked ball players in town. He's played the strong, silent type through two Jacksonville high school athletic campaigns and has apparently resigned himself to the same role this winter. We'd like to air his name and bring to the foreground one of the scrappiest ball players we've ever rested these bleary optics on. Name of Jack Chapman, he's one of the shortest men on the Jack squad but he'll bet a two for five stogie that he's captured more rebound than any of his taller mates.

A deadly shot, he's been sadly overlooked in the Crimsons offensive system. The ball always manages to skirt his mitts much the same as it does the opposing defense and it's only time he feels the leather is when he rebounds. A game defen- sive player, he always manages to draw the tough guarding assignments.

His versatility shows up even more on the football field where Coach Bob Kraushaar claims he can play any position in the Crimson line. He's moved from end to end, besides being chosen to do the punting, run the ball occasionally and play safety when the opposition is passing.

He'll never make the headlines because he just isn't that type of ball player. Few fans notice he's on the floor, but the opposition knows he's out there fighting every minute. And, lest those on the inside think we don't know our business, we know he's in the ball game because we keep a record of such performances. Points? Yes we register those too, but the object of basketball is to hold your man to less points than you score yourself—a trick that Jack has learned and one that some of the flashier boys would do well to harness.

I Love My Doctor

By Evelyn Barkins Copyright by Evelyn Barkins Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

I will never understand why people who make their own beds aren't at least allowed to forget and enjoy them.

THE STORY: John and I, after an elopement, decide that our first big problem is to find a suitable place to live. We want four rooms, to accommodate both home and office, but we can only afford two. We want a middle-class neighborhood, but can only pay for a minor one. But we are honeymooning and these things don't bother us too much.

III

Almost two weeks of intensive house hunting, I was on familiar terms with most of the building superintendents within a five-mile radius, knew their favorite brands of beer and troubles, but little else.

"Lady," said one of them that very day when I had wandered into his territory again while making my usual rounds, "if you could only pay a higher price, I know where you can get a beauty of a place. On Linwood Street South."

"And that's exactly it," I said to John, after repeating my accounting that night, "if we could pay a higher price, we'd have no trouble at all."

That much was certainly true. It is all very well for us Americans as a nation to theoretically idealize contempt for material things. Poor but honest sounds magnificent, and perhaps money is the root of all evil and surely isn't everything, but there comes a time in most young couples' lives when it seems like it is. Maybe Hollywood is right. John and I agreed. Maybe the poor little rich girl does nothing but weep; and maybe the millionaire is never happy until he meets the penniless stenographer who teaches him to do the jitterbug and sing, but did Samuel Goldwyn ever try to find a four-room apartment that costs like two and looks like five?

"Don't worry, darling," John consoled me as, womanlike, I complained the loudest, "maybe you'll find something tomorrow; and if not, we've still got a whole week in which to look. Besides, tomorrow's Saturday, and the fellows are throwing us a combination wedding and farewell party, remember?"

"I almost forgot that," I exclaimed, jumping up off the bed to get my curlers, my one outstanding sop to all social affairs. Then I got a better idea. "Let's make a date of it," I said eagerly, "I'll meet you at the Chinese restaurant before the party; we'll eat and then go. And I bet I'll have good news to tell you about the housing situation!" I finished ferociously.

So the next morning, I started out especially early, determined on an apartment "or else." By 4 o'clock in the afternoon, I was hungry, heart-sick, physically harassed and still homeless. Since I was near my mother's house, I decided to drop in there and recuperate before meeting John at 5.

"Hello," my mother said pleasantly as I entered. "What's wrong with you?"

Nothing makes a girl feel as bad as to be told she looks bad; and since I was feeling bad in the first place, I began to feel worse. "Everything's wrong," I groaned. "No apartment yet?" my mother asked.

"Not a one." In an effort to emerge from my gloom, I opened up the refrigerator, and stood there appraising the contents for a good take. "I just can't find a thing within our means," I said, reaching for a likely looking chicken wing. "If only we had more to spend!"

My mother gave me that blessed-are-the-poor look as I swallowed my first bite. "You made your own bed," she said virtuously; and I will never understand why people who make their own beds aren't at least allowed to forget and enjoy them. But, anyway," she continued as I silently munched my chicken, "I think I've heard of something worth while. Interested?"

"Interested!" I jumped at her, who never in my life won't at bingo, find something tomorrow; and if not, we've still got a whole week in which to look. Besides, tomorrow's Saturday, and the fellows are throwing us a combination wedding and farewell party, remember?"

Virginia Kiwanis Hears A. Morse Monday Evening

The regular meeting of the Virginia Kiwanis club was held at the Virginia Legion home Monday evening with president Paul E. Young presiding. A. W. Morse, lieutenant governor elect of the 11th Kiwanian division, gave an informative report on the training school for the new 1950 Kiwanis officers.

The majority of the people do not realize how much time is given by the officers in performing their duties. The speaker quoted the saying that there are only three kinds of persons in the world: one does something; the second sees what the other has done and does nothing; the third never realizes that anything has been done. The same can be applied to clubs and communities.

It was noted that two new Kiwanis clubs were organized in the 11th division during 1949, at Tallula and Kilbourne. These two clubs were sponsored by the one at Oakford, one of the smallest communities in the United States maintaining a Kiwanis club.

Shortly after the first of the year the new officers will be installed by lieutenant governor Morse. There are 11 clubs in the division.

President elect Guy H. Husted of the Virginia club is making plans for the installation service here scheduled for Jan. 9. This meeting will also be ladies' night.

A group of local members plan to attend charter night for the Kilbourne club Monday evening, Dec. 19, at Kilbourne.

For some years the local club has sponsored Christmas gifts for two girls formerly living in Virginia and now in school in another city. The same practice will be continued this year.
